What is the Aspen Creek process?

Our landscape designs never begin on the computer. They begin with a walk of your property, with you. You will:

- Meet with a landscape designer: share your dreams and learn of the possibilities
- Review the landscape design plans, construction and costs
- Approve the costs based on your budget, revisions and phases
- Decide on a plan of action including start date and estimated time of completion
- If desired, meet at the nursery; tag your own trees and view your plant material
- Meet regularly with your designer and production supervisor during installation
- Have the opportunity to make modifications to your landscape during construction
- Do a project walk through of your finished landscape with advice for future phases
- Be provided with insightful maintenance guides for the life of your landscape

“We bring the mountains to you!”

“Adopt the pace of nature: her secret is patience.”

– Ralph Waldo Emerson
